Eco Line

Organic certified botanical extracts

Provital Eco Line involves a constantly increasing range of botanical extracts coming from organic crops with International Certification. The solvents used for the extracts are of natural origin and preservatives are food grade.

Provital maintains a strong commitment to the production of organic products in its facilities and therefore it has renewed its ECOCERT certification for manufacturing organic products during 2011.

Our Eco range is composed of 31 different botanical extracts which can be used for diverse applications. Each extract is standardized in its characteristic active ingredient.
